SUBCOMMITTEE PROBER CHARGED WITH BUGGING GOLDFINE HOTEL SUITE

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON (AP)—Bernard Goldfine's aides charged today that the hotel room of his secretary has been bugged. This came atop discovery of a microphone placed in position to eavesdrop on conversation of the aides. Jack Lotto, a public relations man newly hired by Goldfine, said that bank records, correspondence, lists and documents had been taken from the room and the secretary, Miss Mildred Papernman, occupied. He said a report had been made to police. Lotto said "We feel this burglary is a continuation of the Gestapo tactics being employed against Mr. Goldfine and his associates." Lotto said the missing papers were to have been used by Goldfine in his appearance Tuesday before the House committee investigating relations between the Boston industrialist and White House aide Sherman Adams.

By LEWIS GULICK
WASHINGTON (AP)—Bernard Goldfine's aides early today found the Harris subcommittee's chief investigator with a hidden microphone in an adjoining hotel suite.
Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) called the subcommittee into emergency session to weigh the fate of the investigator, Baron I. Shacklette, in a strange twist to an inquiry that has rocked Washington.

Newsmen summoned for a post-midnight news conference watched in amazement as the microphone which Shacklette later claimed as his was jerked in the Goldfine aides' suite. The original plan for the meeting with newsmen was abandoned.

Raft Lehi IV Is Awaiting Start On Pacific Trip

SAN PEO, Calif. (AP) — The raft Lehi IV is tied up at a boat works today, awaiting another start on its projected voyage to Hawaii.

Skipper Devere Baker has several plans in mind. He may have the raft towed to Santa Catalina Island, 22 miles off the coast, and there arrange for another tow to a point 150 or 200 miles westward where he can pick up currents favorable for drifting Hawaiiward.

Baker and his four crewmen started Saturday from nearby Redondo Beach. Four miles out the towline broke. The raft poked a hole, above the waterline, in the towing cruiser.

The Hawaii cruise is merely a shakedown for the raft, Baker (Turn to Page Eight)

Congress Sets August 9th As Adjournment Target Date

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP)—Shooting for early August adjournment, congressional leaders mapped out a heavy work docket today as Congress returned from its last prolonged 1958 holiday.

Target date for adjournment is Aug. 9, and prospects are bright that it won't be missed far.

Senate leaders posted five bills for action this week. They deal with atomic energy construction, public works appropriations, housing, agriculture and minerals development.

The House faces an even more ambitious program, dealing with military construction, small business, marketing facilities, science scholarships, atomic energy construction, relief for depressed areas, construction of community facilities and small boat safety. Chances are neither branch will clean up such a heavy program in one week.

There still are some controversial measures in the offing.

The Senate hasn't acted on House-passed bills to provide for reorganization of the Defense Department, extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, and miscellaneous appropriations including financing of the foreign aid program. All must be considered before adjournment.

The list of "must" House bills includes measures to boost Social Security benefits, to provide pensions for former presidents, to regulate union pension and welfare funds, and to authorize and finance a big military construction program.

JC's Start Inspections Of Derby Entries Tonight

According to Elmer Mellander, Inspections Chairman for the Jaycee Soap Box Derby July 12, final inspections of cars will be held this Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday evenings, at Beauty Junior High.

All boys are urged to have their racers ready and to be present at the time designated.

Friday the impounded cars will be on public exhibition at Beauty Junior High from 7 until 9 p. m. so that parents and interested townspeople can inspect the boys' racers.

When Saturday July 12 rolls around, Warren County will again become the scene of the annual Derby event, now in its third successful run, and spectators will line the barricade of snow fence to cheer their choice to win. The Derby is considered the world's greatest amateur sporting event, and is open to the public, with no admission.

The classic will take place on the new site, McPherson Street, more nearly duplicating the Derby Downs in Akron, Ohio.

First place trophy will be presented by National Forge and Ordnance, with trophies for runner-up presented by Sylvania Electric Products, and Warren TV Corporation.

Approximately 22 other valuable prizes have been donated by the local and Youngsville Merchants, making this year's field of prizes the greatest ever.

An innovation added by the first showing of the '58 Chevrolests, presented by Dan's, will highlight the parade.

Read the Times-Mirror all this week for complete Derby line-up and schedule of events.

Names of the 41 registrants will be announced with their sponsors, and the tentative heat schedule will be printed, after the drawing tonight.

Many Attend Public Hearing On Relocation for Proposed Modernization of Route 62

Heated protests to lack of safety measures for Northern Area school buses were heard this morning at a public hearing on the proposed $1,000,000 northward "modernization" of Route 62.

Pine Grove supervisors and Jointure school board members gave vigorous denunciations of state highway road plans which offer no more than a stop sign where Route 957 will intersect with the proposed new stretch.

In the other major development of the meeting, location engineer, William F. Troxell said eventual state plans call for relocation of Route 62 to the west side of Conewango Creek above Akeley. Clifford Johnson of Warren County Motor Club added that this improved Kiantone Hill Road would some day meet a new north-south artery from Buffalo which would bypass Jamestown and Frewsburg.

Present route of the proposed new highway calls for a 24-foot width of reinforced concrete highway running from the present North Warren three-lane through part of Pine Grove Cemetery and intersecting with the Kiantone Road near Akeley Bridge.

Norge Lavison of Northern Area faculty was the first to ask about the intersection of new Route 62 and Route 957 (running from Russell to Lander). He pointed out that 14 school buses now cross the intersection and that a grade separation would be in order.

Engineer Troxell observed that an interchange at that point, with an underpass and access roads, would boost the cost of the project by perhaps $250,000 and that it was not considered "practical."

Pine Grove Planning Commission member Axel Carlstrom recalled that Troxell had said the road was being built primarily for safety's sake to avoid the curves and hazards of the old road, and then observed that the safety of the children (Turn to Page Eight)

36 CAPTIVES ARE STILL IN REBEL HANDS

By BOB CLARK

GUANTANAMO, Cuba (AP) — Fidel Castro's rebels still held 36 U.S. citizens and one Canadian today. Hope continued that the release would be speeded up.

There were strong indications, however, that the rebels were in no hurry because the presence of the Americans in the rebel camps has brought a halt to air attacks by the forces of President Fulgencio Batista.

Four American civilians and one Canadian were brought by U.S. Navy helicopter to the Guantanamo naval base Sunday. The rebels freed four Americans and a Canadian last Wednesday and three Americans Saturday night.

One of those released Sunday, John N. Schissler, Montgomery, Ala., said arrangements are being made to send trucks into the jungled mountains for the 30 U.S. sailors and Marines kidnapped from near the Navy base.

Park Wollam, U.S. consul in Santiago, continued his negotiations with rebel leader Raul Castro, Fidel's brother, who directed the kidnappings.

"Castro told us . . . there still were many more things to be discussed before all the captives could go," Schissler reported.

The motive for the kidnappings reportedly was to pressure the United States not to supply Batista's forces with fuel or ammunition. Schissler expressed belief that Wollam has convinced Raul Castro the United States is not aiding the government forces trying to put down the rebellion.

But Raul was quoted as saying, "The Cuban army won't drop any bombs while the Americans are here. They are very good 50mm. antiaircraft protection."

All five men released Sunday were employees of the American-owned Moa Bay Mining Co., which is preparing to develop nickel and cobalt deposits in northeast Cuba.

All those released have been in good shape and reported the rebels treated them well.

Lopez Is Chosen Mexico President In Quiet Election

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Handsome, 48-year-old Adolfo Lopez Mateos, the brilliant labor minister in the last government, was elected president of Mexico Sunday in probably the quietest vote in the nation's history.

The dominant government Party of Revolutionary Institution (PRI) claimed Lopez Mateos had won by a landslide—somewhere between 70 and 85 per cent of the votes.

No big totals were announced, however.

Lopez Mateos' victory over textile manufacturer Luis Hector Alvarez had never been in doubt. The PRI and its predecessors have never lost an election since the parent party was launched in 1928.

Mexico also elected a full Congress of 60 senators and 162 deputies. The PRI claimed that it had retained control by an overwhelming majority.

Spectacular JC Programs Attract Huge Crowds to Warren Over the Holiday

A return to the traditional 4th of July Celebration was witnessed by crowds totalling about 40,000 to 50,000 during the course of the two-day festivities which marked the Jaycees' annual presentation.

Beginning with the arrival of a very gracious Miss Pennsylvania at Warren Airport on Thursday afternoon and climaxed by one of the most beautiful Fireworks Displays to be seen in Warren in many years, the celebration was deemed a success from start to finish.

The Jaycee Committee, arriving a bit late to greet the new Miss Pennsylvania, who had flown in early because of impending rain, soon made her feel at home, and escorted her to the Penn-Laurel Motel where she made her headquarters for the two days. With the five finalists riding atop their convertible, a quick tour of the city was made, and then the six girls met the charming Rosalie Samley, who was making her first public appearance as the Keystone State's reigning beauty.

The first feature event held on Thursday night at War Memorial Field was the Queen's Contest with Miss Pennsylvania crowning Miss Joan Dunham as the new Miss Warren County of 1958. The judges all admitted that the selection was extremely difficult, and Jaycees commented that never in recent memory had a more lovely Queen and Court reigned over the 4th. The court for Miss Dunham included Sandra Steinkamp, Nancy Groesch, Joyce Knapp, and Nancy Ennis.

A free Street Dance, held at the Nu-Way Plaza, attracted many dancers and just as many spectators, and the people swayed to the strains of Ford Winner and his Orchestra.

Aerial Bombs at 6 a. m. awakened local residents to a day which promised to be one of the biggest. Two breakfasts, for the committee at the Savoy and for the Queen and her Court at the Blue & White, (Turn to Page Eight)

Adenauer Party Scores Victory in West Germany

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD
DUESSELDORF, Germany (AP) — An election victory for Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Christian Democrats in West Germany's largest state was seen today as an endorsement of his plans to provide the nation's new army with atomic weapons.

The Christian Democrats regained control of the Provincial Parliament of North Rhine-Westphalia Sunday in the first popular test of the nuclear armament program. It has become West Germany's hottest political issue since Adenauer's party won the national elections again almost 10 months ago.

Only the provincial administration of this big industrial and agricultural state was at stake, but the opposition Socialists keyed their campaign to Adenauer's plans to accept the Atlantic Allies' offer of nuclear arms.

The Socialists claimed atomic armament would put West Germany so squarely in the Western camp that all hope of reuniting with Communist East Germany by negotiations would be lost. They raised the specter of atomic warfare, while the Christian Democrats played on fears of communism and hammered home their theme of postwar prosperity.

The Christian Democrats moved from a minority position of 39 seats in the 200-member Provincial Parliament to firm control with 104 seats. The Socialists advanced, but not as far, from 76 to 81 seats.

Six Dead in Collision During Thundershowers

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — Two cars collided near here Sunday during a thundershower, killing six persons. Two others were injured critically.

Dead were Aaron Leitwein, 66; his wife Dathna, 64; their son, Harry Leitwein, 45, and his son Dean, 13, all of Springfield; and Howard Bigelow, 48, and his son David, 13, Kansas City.

The injured are Bigelow's other son Tommy, 9, and Mrs. Harry Leitwein, 43.

Piano-Playing Contest Ends in Tie for Couple

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Jack Mayer and Mrs. Noye Person played the piano for 76 hours 46 minutes and 3 seconds before halting the contest on the advice of a doctor Sunday.

Mayer, a supper club entertainer, and Mrs. Person, a former Rocky Mount, N.C., radio entertainer, were the last of six players who started the keyboard marathon Thursday morning.

The players got five-minute breaks every two hours until 1 p. m. Saturday, then 10-minute breaks.

Judges called it a tie and awarded Mrs. Person and Mayer each an $800 piano.

Although late reports were expected to boost the total of dead somewhat, it appeared that the final count would be below the record toll forecast by the National Safety Council for a three-day holiday period.

Fatal highway mishaps got off to a fast start but tapered off commencing Saturday afternoon after early reports indicated the (Turn to Page Eight)

Three Survivors Of Pacific Crash Reach Honolulu

HONOLULU (AP)—Three survivors of the C124 Air Force transport plane which went down early Friday in mid-Pacific returned here Sunday night to tell of fighting off a school of sharks before they were rescued.

Nine were aboard the plane. One body was recovered and five others are missing and presumed drowned.

Returning here on the aircraft carrier Boxer, which picked up the three survivors 200 miles northeast of Johnston Island, Capt. Jonathan W. Brown, the plane's commander, told newsmen: "One of the sharks got a good hold on me and was shaking me."

"We were pounding the water and yelling and thrashing and kicking around. I was beating on the shark's head with my fist. He finally let go. There were several of them around and they swam away."

He said they apparently were put off somewhat by shark repellent from the men's lifejackets and by all the noise.

Jail Is Happy Place for Prisoner Freed in Slaying

JEFFERSON, Ga. (AP) — Jail was a happy place today for Mr. and Mrs. James Fulton Foster and five of their seven children.

They were together again under the same roof for the first time in two years.

During those two years Foster twice was sentenced to die in the electric chair in the slaying of a Jefferson merchant. His wife Irene struggled to keep the family going at Greer, S. C., by working in a shirt factory.

Then, on Friday, word came that a former Cairo, Ill., policeman had signed a statement in the South Carolina penitentiary admitting the slaying of Charlie Drake, 60, during a robbery attempt.

Sunday night Irene and James held a reunion on the jailhouse lawn. They hugged and kissed and cried in each other's arms, heedless of about 100 onlookers.

After that Irene, 38, said: "We're going to stay here until we can take him back."

Her slim, mild-mannered husband, a 40-year-old house painter, didn't say anything. He knew legal technicalities might delay his release a week or two.

At this point, Sheriff John Brooks invited Mrs. Foster and the five children to stay at the jail, a large rambling house in this small town some 70 miles northeast of Atlanta.

PENDLETON MARINE DETACHMENT DEDICATED—The Joseph H. Pendleton Detachment Marine Corps League flag, was officially dedicated on July 4th, 1983 by Helen Pendleton on Rockwell (center, raising flag) "in honor of all Marines who gave their lives from Warren County." The new post home is at the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and Union street. Among those present in the good-sized crowd for the dedication were National Guard color guard, Complanter Drum and Bugle Corps, veteran charter members of the local detachment, Frank Grutina and Howard Clark, (flanking Mrs. Rockwell) Congressman Leon H. Gavin, Capt. McCutcheon, honorary Marines Leo Gibson, William Rice and Harry Swenson, and next-of-kin of deceased Marine.

The turnpike, having already been built, cannot come in for payment by the federal government of 90 per cent of its construction costs as with other interstate roads.

But as part of the interstate system, Tallamy maintained, the turnpike cannot help but benefit in the way of securing larger volumes of traffic in the future.

Tallamy's remarks were made after attending a meeting Wednesday with a group of Pennsylvania Congressmen whose districts will be traversed by the proposed Keystone Shortway.

Also on hand were Martin Cohn,

In answer to fears voiced earlier by southeastern Pennsylvania business interests, Tallamy said the shortway would be "advantageous," rather than detrimental to the Philadelphia area.

"It would appear that by the time the shortway is completed (12 or more years)—and in view of traffic increases and connections to the turnpike never contemplated at the time the bonds to finance it were sold—the shortway would have no adverse effect on the turnpike," he said.

FLOOD CONTROL TO BE DISCUSSED

Dr. Arthur Morgan, noted hydrodynamic engineer, will be in Warren either July 21 or 23 to discuss the potentialities of a Conewango Valley reservoir, as compared to the flood protection which might be offered this district by the proposed Kinzua Dam. Dr. Morgan has long championed a Conewango Valley project as far superior to a Kinzua Dam, either for flood control or water conservation. Celebration Notes

Bill Hill, who contributed much of the advance publicity for the celebration, demonstrated his versatility by taking over the job of announcing the various units as they approached the judges' stand in Times Square. He really did an excellent job and contributed much to the enjoyment of the parade for folks in Times Square.

The parade was delayed getting started due to the late arrival of the Boy Scout unit from Simco, Ontario, Canada, who received a big hand along the entire line.

Sentiment seems to be unanimous that it was one of the most spectacular parades ever to traverse Pennsylvania avenue, and witnessed by the largest crowd ever—probably between 35,000 and 50,000. There is no doubt it was the greatest crowd seen in Warren in the memory of oldest paradeists.

The Seneca Indian unit appearing in Division VIII was a welcome new addition to the annual Spectacular, and they received the ovation they deserved.

Borough, county and district dignitaries in the first division had an opportunity to watch most of the parade from the judges' stand since they were rushed back to the intersection of Market and Pennsylvania avenue as soon as the first division reached the disbanding point. Congressman Gavin left as soon as he had made his annual donation to some pretty girls near the judges' stand—said he had another Independence Day appointment at Fryburg, in Venango County.

State Hospital Affiliates in Division V received the usual noisy ovation along the line of march. Buses following them were to rush them back to the institution and their duties.

Many of the JC members worked through the night at daylight a squad was busy decorating the truck used by the judges in Times Square. The parade marshal, Pete Massa, Chairman Abe Schwartz, his young son, and a group of interested youngsters, along with two or three members of the Celebration Committee were on hand for the six o'clock aerial bombing at Beaty Field. Albe Anderson, a JC past president, was also in attendance in his official capacity.

All departments, employees and officials in the borough government, from the Burgess down to Rocco, the street cleaner, are to be commended for the important parts they played in making the celebration a success. The streets were never more littered up than they appeared to be after the parade Friday, but early risers Saturday morning found every thoroughfare presenting the spick and span "look" that gives the town the reputation of being one of the cleanest and most brightly anywhere. The Police Department, as usual, comes in for a big share of praise for the excellent job of handling the record crowd. The fact that no accidents of any sort were recorded attests to the efficient

Six Accidents Are Investigated Over Weekend

Area police officers were busy investigating six relatively minor traffic accidents over the long holiday weekend.

Two of the mishaps occurred Saturday. At 4:30 p. m. in Pleasant Township on Route 62 about eight miles from Warren, Joseph Suppa, 64, of 1028 Spring street lost control of his vehicle when it skidded in a soft berm.

The machine swerved into an embankment and sustained an estimated $300 damage.

At 4 p. m. Saturday on legislative route 61009 in Eldred Township about 20 miles south of Youngsville, Earl C. Roberts, 49, of RD 1, Grand Valley, was cut off when he attempted to pass a highway truck spreading oil.

Equipment operator John W. Volk, 32, of Columbus, was engaged in his work, troops said, and did not see the Roberts machine. Damages were estimated at $75 to the station wagon none to the spreader.

Two persons were injured in separate mishaps on Friday.

At 10:50 p. m. on the Fourth Russell, Littlefield, of Titusville, and Ronald Buckley, 21, of RD 1, Grand Valley, were heading south on Route 27 just south of Garland Buckley was in the lead and Littlefield attempted to pass.

Damages were estimated at $350 to Buckley's machine, $650 to Littlefield's. The latter was taken to Titusville Hospital.

At 3:11 p. m. Friday, three cars piled up in heavy traffic when one driver failed to stop in time for the Pennsylvania Avenue light at East Street.

Kenneth Simmons, 32, of 209 Madison Avenue was heading east and had stopped for the light. Frank C. Russo, 42, of 12 Morrison street had stopped behind him.

Third car not stopping was operated by Marvin Stucklin, 25, of Frewsburg. He pushed the Russo vehicle into Simmons' car.

Damages were estimated at $250 to the Stucklin car, $25 to Russo's, $10 to Simmons' A. passenger Richard Pilling, 18, of Pittsfield RD 1, suffered a cut over his right eye.

At 11 a. m. Sunday, Lois Norden, 32, of RD 1, Russell, was backing from a driveway on LR 61005 at Scandia. Her machine struck the rear of an eastbound vehicle operated by Wanda Bomber, 30, of 520 1/2 Conewango Avenue.

Damages were estimated at $100 to the Norden car, $150 to Bomber's.

At 1:45 p. m. on Saturday, Sue Pitchard, 17, of 200 Quaker Hill Road, stopped for pedestrians as she attempted a right turn onto Second while proceeding north on Liberty. Coming behind and attempting to swing wide around was Mary L. Hen-

Sugar Grove Man Wins Trophy Race

Mary Thorpe of Sugar Grove took the big 50-lap Championship Trophy Race at Stateline Speedway Thursday night. In doing so, he became the third newcomer to the oval's winners' circle in as many weeks, verifying the fact that competition this season is extremely close-matched.

Days when one or two drivers brought home all the bacon seem to be gone, as far as late model racing is concerned and each week brings its new surprises.

One such "sleeper" in the holiday double bill was Gil Laythorp of Kane, who led the long grind for 39 laps before his car let him down, forcing him to settle for fifth. Eb Young of Titusville came close behind Thorpe in second.

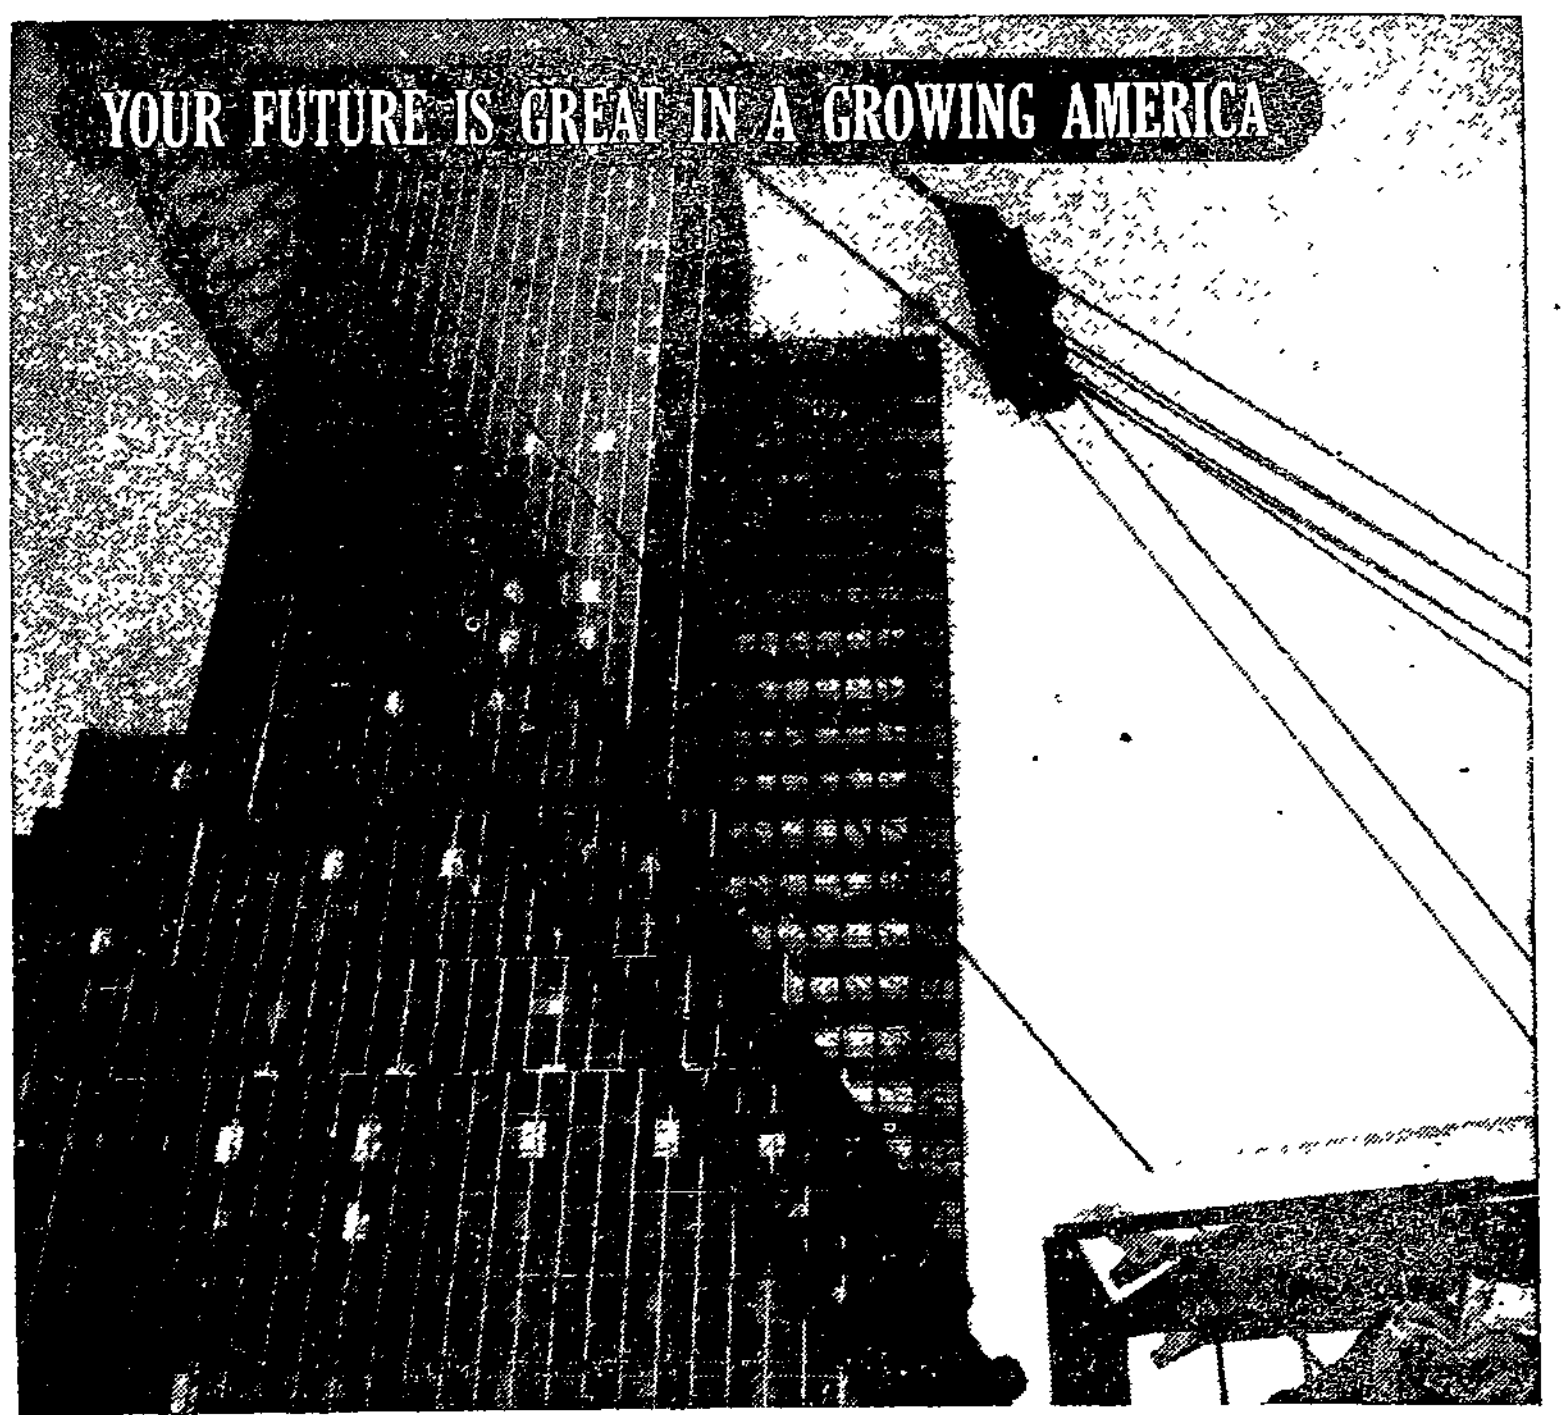

Point leader Dean Layfield of Wellsville strengthened his shaky top position with third spot, and Bud Phearsdorf of Allegheny finally got enough bugs out of his new mount to grab fourth, after two unsuccessful weeks with the new car.

Warren's Emory Mahan, driving his last year's 8-Ball entry for the second time this season, blew an engine in the warmup laps. Brockway's Squirt Johns and John Seeley of Jamestown lost three laps through a big tangle of cars.

Fifty lap summary: Mary Thorpe, Eb Young, Dean Layfield, Bud Phearsdorf, Gil Laythorp, Al Sterns.

BILL AIDS KINZUA DAM

An Associated Press dispatch from Washington on the holiday wire of considerable interest to this particular area says the Senate Appropriation Committee has recommended that Army Engineers continue planning for the Kinzua reservoir, and backed it up with a one million dollar grant.

The recommendation came in the committee's approval of an omnibus water project appropriation bill.

This will be good news for the large section of residents of the valley who have viewed with some apprehension delaying tactics of a group of opponents of the project.

Previously, it will be remembered, the House appropriations committee, before passage of the House version of the bill June 19, had recommended that funds for the Kinzua dam be held up pending the outcome of litigation.

In this connection it is interesting to note that President Eisenhower late Thursday signed the $1,620,000,000 Rivers and Harbors authorization bill and praised Congress for eliminating some projects which led him to veto two previous measures.

The President said in a statement that the lawmakers, upon taking another look at the projects, had eliminated "practically all of the shortcomings of these earlier bills."

The measure sometimes decried as a "pork barrel" bill, was the result of a negotiated agreement between the President and the Budget Bureau on one hand and Congress on the other. It ended a dispute which had been going on since 1956.

The new law authorized 59 navigation, 14 beach erosion and 66 flood control projects and modifications costing an estimated 750 million dollars. It also raised by 870 million dollars the money limits on 15 approved river basin plans.

50,000 CAN'T BE WRONG

In the opinion of everyone who had the pleasure to participate in any way (variously estimated at between 40,000 and 50,000) the annual Fourth of July Celebration sponsored by the Warren Chapter of the Junior Chamber of Commerce should go down in history as one of the best. For the ninth consecutive time we say "Well done, boys, the community owes you another hearty vote of thanks!"

Marlow Looks At TODAY'S NEWS

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of our troubles is that we can't see through Premier Khrushchev's head. He extends a friendly hand one minute, a fist the next. But we don't know what he has up his sleeve.

A great many Americans have tried to analyze the meaning of the recent on-again-off-again Soviet tactics. But this writer hasn't yet heard of one explanation yet that looks foolproof.

It's possible the Soviets' sudden reversals in recent months—from nice to nasty to nice—are the product of simple bumbling and stumbling in foreign policy or of internal Communist party conflicts hidden from sight.

It's also possible the Soviets don't care much what they do or say from month to month so long as they keep a couple of balls in the air, make propaganda, and keep stalling on disarmament or finding ways to prevent surprise attacks.

What Khrushchev has in mind for 3, or 5, or 10 years from now for the United States is something we can only guess at. And in this contest guessing carries a chilly feeling.

For, through all the shifting gears of the Kremlin one guess—some thought persists: Is Khrushchev stalling until he feels strong enough to wipe us out with a surprise attack? That's possible too.

It's almost certain neither side is going to talk seriously about disarmament, and for various reasons. One is enough: so long as both are heavily armed each has a measure of safety from attack by the other.

But how much safety from surprise attack each has is something only the top men on both sides know. It would seem to behoove this country to keep its defenses A-1 for years to come.

An individual in this country who tried to make perfect sense out of all the Soviet twists, following them down the dark alleys of the mind, could wind up in a loony bin. An example is given near the end of this story.

This year, after spending months building up propaganda for a summit meeting, or appearing to do so, Khrushchev all but knocked the idea of a summit conference out the window.

The same with the Geneva talks, where American and Communist scientists are now discussing ways to prevent cheating if there is agreement against further nuclear testing. At the last minute the Soviets seemed to be scuttling the meeting. Then they sent their scientists to Geneva.

And Khrushchev this past week, after practically torpedoing a summit conference, proposed to President Eisenhower technical talks on how to prevent surprise attacks. He failed to acknowledge that Eisenhower himself had proposed this last January.

Khrushchev knows what this country wants to prevent surprise attack, a good inspection system. But Sunday Pravda, right on the heels of Khrushchev's proposal, made a joke of any inspection system.

The Communist party newspaper suggested American inspection teams, in flying over the Soviet Union, might gather intelligence information for an American surprise attack.

If there's to be no inspection system, what's the solution? Just trust. Pravda said. That's some answer. Since there's no trust at all, both sides will remain heavily armed and capable of attack.

Which brings up a question: Why did Khrushchev mention it at all? Maybe just to keep talking.

Footnotes on Alaska: It's a wonderful thing for the country to have a big brand-new state, but we have to hope there won't be any serious repercussions in Texas Long accustomed to being the biggest state in the union, Texas conceivably could go from there to the biggest inferiority complex, what with Alaska being more than twice as large. . . There were a lot of funny arguments tossed into the debate over Alaskan statehood. One we didn't happen to hear was that it may be a good antirecession measure. Think of all those flags. First the flag makers pick up. Then the textile crowd. They buy new cars. And so on. . . Incidentally, what are we going to do for an abbreviation for the new state? With Alabama in the same league, Alaska can't be "Ala." What about "Alka." then? Too much like a Russian space dog. Just plain "Al." maybe? Sounds kind of personal, doesn't it? The thing's a puzzler.

On the subject of "The Whippoorwill," The New York Times has in an editorial: Few birds are more seldom seen or better known by call and reputation than the whippoorwill here in the northeast. The bird's call is fascinating to the uninitiated; it is also one of the most insistently repetitious bird calls ever uttered, and two whippoorwills challenging each other vocally can disrupt sleep for hours. Yet those who hear the whippoorwill's calls in youth will go miles to hear it again. It isn't a song; it is a memory, a legend. Even in name the whippoorwill is a legend. It belongs to the scientific family called Caprimulgidae, Latin for goat-sucker. Because members of the family haunted herds of goats at dusk they long ago were believed to milk the goats and live on milk. Later it was learned that they lived on flying insects and followed the goats because they attracted such insects. But the name persisted, finally outranked the English common name, nightjar, which at least had truth to back it up for if any bird can jar and jolt the night, this one can. There are other members of the family in the South, chuck-wills widows and poorwills, and there is the nighthawk, the least vocal one of all. But we know best and remember longest the whippoorwill, which comes north in mid-spring, summers here and goes south again for the winter. It builds no nest worthy of the name, it hatches two eggs on a pile of dead leaves, and it sleeps all day. It is seldom seen. But its call, which sometimes is repeated several hundred times almost without pause, is seldom forgotten. Old men who haven't heard a whippoorwill in years smile with remembering at the very name—whippoorwill—and wish to hear it again.

Ike's Visit to Ottawa Can Ease U.S.-Canadian Tension

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—President and Mrs. Eisenhower's informal visit to Ottawa July 8-10 will be their second good will trip to Canada since moving into the White House.
On the first trip in November 1953 the President told the Canadian Parliament that "Joint development of the St. Lawrence-Great Lakes Waterway is inevitable."
That is one prediction on improved U.S.-Canadian relations that has materialized. On the way back to Washington the Eisenhowers and Secretary of State and Mrs. Dulles, who accompany them, are scheduled to inspect the U.S. works of the now nearly completed St. Lawrence Seaway.
The other parts of President Eisenhower's 1953 talk to the Canadian Parliament could stand a playback. He declared then that "neighborly cooperation" would insure the defense and economic prosperity of the American continent.
Mutual defense arrangements of the two countries have been proceeding all right, with the U.S. pumping half a billion dollars a year into combined efforts to safeguard the two countries against surprise attack.

BUT SOMETHING seems to have happened to the economic prosperity of the two countries in the last five years. And that has put a strain on neighborly cooperation.
Any calm appraisal should show neither neglect nor domination. But there are other inconsistencies in present surface differences between the two countries.
A Canadian immigration office in New York is trying to recruit U.S. skilled labor to "Go North, Young Man" and grow up with the country.

ON THE OTHER hand, the most frequent criticism of the United States is that this country is trying to take over Canada through trade, capital and economic penetration, freezing the Canadians out of their own country.

What all this really amounts to is that Canada is enjoying acute growing pains. It has the most rapidly developing economy in the world today. It is growing even faster than Russia. This gives Canadians a natural sense of pride which is developing into strong nationalism.

U.S. ambassador to Ottawa Livingston T. Merchant—a real pro in this business—recently summed up the whole situation for the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

It was his view that as Canada's economy has grown, its relations with the United States—which accounts for two-thirds of its foreign trade—have naturally grown more complex. And they are likely to grow still more complex.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER is expected to give his views on this new relationship when he again addresses Parliament.
Canadian Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker has some ideas on this subject too. His early plan to shift more of Canada's trade to the British has been criticized in Canada as impractical and almost impossible to achieve.
A Diefenbaker trial balloon launched at a Connecticut Wesleyan commencement address called on the U.S. to put all its farm surpluses into an international food bank.
That would of course take them out of competition with Canadian wheat exports. But the P.M.'s generous giveaway of U.S. surpluses finds no support in Washington.
There won't be time in Ottawa to iron out any of these problems but if the visit relieves tension a little and facilitates later negotiations through diplomatic channels, it will have served its purpose.

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Buying on time is still in style. Because of the trimming down of auto installment debt, there's more of a chemise look today. But if you disregard auto credit (and it's still hefty by most standards) you'll find Americans increasing their purchases of other consumer goods on the cuff.
Department stores report a steady climb in the amount of soft goods being sold on short term credit plans.
It's only the big ticket hard goods that take a long time to pay for that find the customers acting shy.
And the American Bankers Assn. reports that debtors are prompter in their payments than they were in the early months of 1958. The Northern Trust Co. of Chicago says that delinquencies and repossessions, although higher than a year ago, have not reached a stage considered serious. The ABA adds they appear to be receding in many parts of the country. But the American Collectors Assn. finds the delinquent, its particular problem, hard to collect from.
The Federal Reserve Board's largest figures show that at the start of June total installment credit was just under 33 billion dollars, down 600 million dollars from the end of January. During May consumers had taken up 3 1/2 billion dollars of new installment debt, but repayments had topped this by 100 million dollars.
The shrinkage was all in auto loans. Outstanding were some 14 1/2 billion dollars of commitments on cars, 183 million dollars less than at the start of May.
But other consumer goods had risen in May by 53 million dollars to 8 1/8 billion dollars to top year ago figures by 95 million dollars.

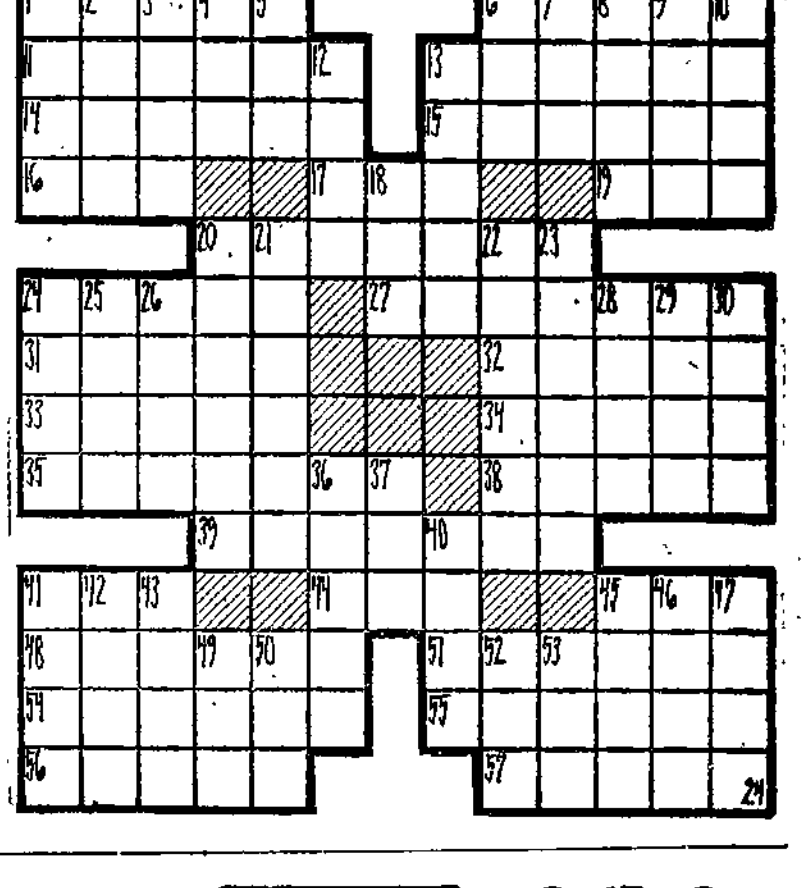

Repair and modernization loans and personal loans also rose.
A Standard Financial Corp. survey of 12,840 customers of 127 department stores throughout the country points up the selectivity of consumers during the recession. It reports that in the last 18 months revolving credit sales of soft goods in these stores exceeded the corresponding month of the previous year.
The average maturity of installment credit for soft goods is seven months, while the average maturity on auto debt is around 31 months.
Merchants and customers answering the survey stressed this time difference in their credit programs under current conditions.
"Consumers can see seven months ahead; they can't see 31 months ahead," the report concludes. "So they hold back on the long term obligations."
Only in the case of electric appliances did any of the 127 stores report any easing of credit terms. The aim in that case was to reduce heavy inventories.
In addition to an increase in the buying of soft goods on time, sales finance companies report an increase of installment sales of motor boats, house trailers, swimming pools, travel tickets and college tuition payments.
The marked increase in personal savings noted a few months back doesn't dismay the finance companies. They hold that the consumer down payments and reserves. The growing reservoir of consumer savings is regarded as assurance of an upsurge of credit sales when the recession is reversed.

Another Warren Queen

With Queens a topic of general conversation in Warren at this time of year, recent visitors at the home of Mrs. Harry Ristau at Rogertown recalled to friends the fact that her granddaughter, Mrs. Robert Loar, a professional model for the buyers' market in Seattle, Wash., was chosen "Queen of Pasco, Wash." in 1951. Mrs. Loar is the daughter of A. K. and Dorothy Ristau Wickham, former residents of both Warren and Bolivar, N. Y.

Reminiscing about her "reign", Mrs. Loar recalled she was Queen of the Pasco Water Follies, attended the Seattle Sea Fair, which later led to her eligibility as a Miss America candidate; cut the ribbon opening the Snake River Bridge, and turned the first shovel of earth for the Pasco-Kennewick Bridge, now in use.

She is now the wife of Robert Loar of Seattle, who is employed by Boeing Aircraft. They have two daughters, Wendy, aged five, and Tracy, four. Mrs. Loar, whose work as a model includes promotion for Sha-Keen of Hawaii, has left with her parents to return to their west coast home.

They're Roomy and Handsome

Soft and bright leathers are used in Paris for beautiful summer handbags. New here is sweet calf, textured supple calf that's washable. Sunny lemon is the color used for this handbag with soft draping. This over-the-arm style springs open with gentle pressure of the thumb. The soft and unframed envelope bag (center) is navy trimmed and buttoned neatly with white calf. Half moon bag (right) is in coral colored calf. All three bags shown here are the roomy kind dear to the heart of the American woman. And all three, while holding lots, will maintain their chic outlines.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—From France comes a summer story of lightweight leather handbags in bright colors. They take their place among other light accessories for hot weather wear: airy hats, strapping sandals and cool little fabric gloves.

Actually, these leathers are handled in much the same way that fabric is draped. They're pleated, folded, draped or worked smoothly for a suave effect. The idea is to create an accessory with very little weight for hot summer days. After all, a woman doesn't really want to lug around a great weight when the temperatures soar.

The leathers include: capeskin, lambskin and sweet calf. Sweet calf is much like the popular textured calf. Paris handbag designers like it because, it is said, it won't crack or bleed against light summer dresses.

As Paris does them, the new bags are both roomy and handsome. They are meant to hold everything a woman needs to tote around with her and to weigh in at practically nothing.

Colors range from sand and beige into sea green and lemon, then reach out into azalea, brilliant turquoise and the much-loved hyacinth.

AUXILIARY PICNIC

With a bit of cooperation on the part of the Weather Man, Chief Cornplanter Auxiliary will have a picnic-tureen supper on the lawn at the American Legion Home at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday. The usual business session will be convened at eight o'clock.

HONOR MISSIONARY

SUGAR GROVE—The Rev. and Mrs. O. R. Swanson entertained with open house to honor Linda Svein, sister of Mrs. Swanson, who left last week to return to her mission work in Venezuela. Miss Svein will have been in mission work in that country 30 years this fall, but has been in this country for the past three years to help care for her aged parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Svein, now deceased.

The Swansons, with their sons, Bruce, John and James, have recently enjoyed a nice southern trip. The family visited friends in Alabama while Rev. Swanson, superintendent of the Middle East Conference of Mission Covenant Churches, attended General Conference sessions in Miami, Fla.

Rev. David Vennberg, pastor of Sugar Grove Mission Covenant church, was also in attendance.

CIRCLE DINNER

Tomasine Allen Circle of First Baptist church will have a picnic dinner at 1:00 p. m. Tuesday at the Wig-Wam. Those attending are to bring a turen and table service, the event to be held rain or shine. A good attendance is urged.

Mr. Donelson will serve as director; Carol Jean Thompson, attended from Youngsville, will serve as camp pianist, the Rev. Eugene Westley, missionary to Nigeria, will be guest speaker. There are 114 youth enrolled

These Are Friends, Indeed, But Only to Themselves

What kind of friend are you? Are you the kind of friend who is all sympathy when others are in trouble, but who hates to see them prosper and get ahead? The kind who sticks when the going is good, but is too busy to be bothered when a friend can no longer do him any good? Are you the kind who takes—but rarely gives? Who counts every favor done and every favor received—keeping a mental balance sheet of what he does for others and what they do for him? Who resents a friend's being well liked by others or thinking as much of others as of him? Who prides himself on being frank—which means being frank to point out the unpleasant truth, to see the fly in the ointment, to make the unhappy reminder? Who takes old friends for granted and makes less effort for them than for the newest acquaintance? Who agrees with a person to his face, and criticizes him behind his back? Who wants to have everything his own way, and everything done at his convenience? Who can be silent while a friend is being criticized or gossiped about? Or, are you the kind of friend you expect your friends to be to you? Are you sure?

RADIO and TV

By CYNTHIA LOWKY
NEW YORK (AP)—Matinee Theater sank quietly in the Sunday channels of daytime television at June's end, torpedoed by big expenses and small audiences.

Somehow, it had managed to survive almost three years in spite of competition from quiz shows, musical shows and serials. It won wide critical acclaim, but for some time it has been unloved by NBC.

Summer Blankets Sub for Bedspreads

Color scheme for this early American bedroom is centered on the garlanded summer blanket. Pastels in wreaths and flowers are repeated in wall decorations and on the spatter-effect floor.

BY KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

The undercover story in bedding is coming out in the open. Pretty, lightweight summer blankets team with pretty sheets to tempt a homemaker to forget the concealing bedspread.

Lovely solid colors, delicate prints and bright checks and stripes give special charm to these thin blankets.

New materials in the blanket field include blends of cotton rayon and orlon and a modified acrylic fiber called "verel" which is lightly-napped, soft and feathery.

A nice thing about summer blankets is their complete washability and moth's indifference to them as food.

THIS IS, as a matter of fact a good time of year to take stock of both your winter and summer blankets.

Many stores have lay-away sales on winter blankets now and you may save several dollars if you need replacements.

A blanket that has lost its nap or one that is badly worn may not be much of an insulator against the cold next winter.

In my own blanket check-off I found two that weren't so presentable. They were rather worn, but not yet ready for discard.

They're still good for vacation camps, summer cottages or as extras for children's beds.

Old wool blankets should be washed and mothproofed before storage to avoid attracting insects. A fresh binding may also improve their appearance.

SUMMER BLANKETS as a rule are inexpensive and if you watch for special sales, their cost is even more modest. Look for blankets that can be washed and dried repeatedly without time-consuming handling.

Pastel colors and beige and white are popular as are patterns such as butterflies, stars or garlands, printed on a cloud-white background.

Coordination with other things is possible. For example, the butterflies that flutter across a blanket are cousins of similarly tinted butterflies on lingerie.

An early American wreath design using pink, green, blue and yellow on white sparks the color scheme for a bedroom with early American furniture and a spatter-painted floor in the same colors.

The same wreath design, copied by an artistic hand, reappears in point around the room at waistcoat height.

I'd never be that ambitious, but wallpaper borders using similar motifs might be used to frame wall sections and suggest their painted counterparts.

three million dollars putting on five hour-long live plays weekly. Its drooping ratings dampened sponsors' eagerness to help pay for the plays—even when they were Shakespeare.

In Matinee Theater's place have come two serials cast in the conventional mold of agony and much cheaper to produce.

Meanwhile, however, Matinee Theater is not beyond salvage. It has developed a hard core of such devoted viewers that Mrs. John Conte, wife of the actor who was host on the show, was moved to organize the non-profit Foundation for the Preservation of Matinee Theater. To date, thousands of viewers have contributed more than $200,000 to get the show back on the air.

"And we would have much more if all our viewers knew about the Foundation," said Mrs. William Black, east coast chairman of the project. "We tried to buy spots on NBC asking viewers to contribute, but they wouldn't give us time."

Whether or not the Foundation is successful, the idea of thousands of women earnestly attempting to keep alive an intelligent, entertaining television show is stimulating and pleasant.

Obviously NBC could not be expected to continue to drop a million dollars a year on a TV show, no matter how widely it was praised or beloved. Apparently it could survive only if moved to TV's public service time—Sunday afternoon—which has become increasingly egghead and increasingly lacking in sponsors.

Mrs. Black, however, thinks sponsors—even soap manufacturers—are missing a good bet. "After all, thousands of women have demonstrated how much they like the show—and with contributions," she said. "I think the sponsor who gave Matinee Theater back to its public would be such a hero the audience would make sure his product sold. After all, that's what a sponsor wants, isn't it?"

Brokenstraw Valley Joint School Board Holds Meeting

Signing of the five-district jointure lease and acceptance of a number of bids highlighted the special session of Brokenstraw Valley Joint School Board, convening concurrently with the Joint Committee for that group's regular July 1st session.

This lease, between the Board and the State Public School Building Authority, marks official end of the High School building project and adjusts the annual rental from $34,775.55 to $34,368.70, this amount to be paid annually by the board for the duration of the mortgage. The sum represents the entire project, including furniture and other equipment.

The Joint Committee, at its meeting, approved recommendation of the building and grounds committee for acceptance of the bid of $895 by Laco Applicators, Inc., of Jamestown for re-roofing the Currie Building; also of the $860 bid of C. Beckley's of Warren for re-wiring and re-lighting the high school auditorium. The committee was also authorized to proceed with remodeling of the house rented for special education purposes.

H. J. Sherwood, supervising principal, reported a letter received from Mrs. Agnesmarie Johnston expressed her inability to sign the contract offered her as elementary art instructor. Robert McCullough, fourth grade teacher at Irvine, and

BOYLE'S COMMENT

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't read his mail.

That for 28 per cent of the country's estimated 39 million married couples, both husband and wife have jobs outside the home. The tired business woman may soon outnumber the tired business man.

That this is the century of the common dog as well as the common man. America's pooch population has leaped 44 per cent in the last decade.

That the Romans were the first people to use silver widely as money.

That U. S. insect pests nullify the labor of at least one million workers a year.

That music is really getting specialized. The owner of the Meramec Caverns at Stanton, Mo., has hired Dr. Sigmund Spaeth to make selections of "music to be listened to in a cave."

That a survey showed 15 million American women are overweight. The rest just think they are.

That no ship is launched on Friday because of a sailor superstition to do so would bring bad luck.

That this is the newest definition of a witch: "A flying sorceress."

That a New York hotel has been forced to abandon its experiment of having the waitresses wear sack dress uniforms. Both the waitresses and the patrons complained.

That Dr. Carlton Fredericks, the nutritionist, says licorice is an excellent natural substitute for tranquilizer pills.

That a new fad has cropped up in the college set—eating lighted cigarettes. Well, anyway they're cheaper than goldfish.

That a recent study showed the average Harvard freshman is half an inch taller than the average Yale freshman. But then Yale has never been the same since it lost Frank Merriwell.

That bandleader Sammy Kaye during his career has given away 250,000 souvenir batons. So-o-o-o, wouldn't you know, he is being honored by the National Lumber Manufacturers Assn.

That, according to the Fisherman's Magazine, a fish has such a poorly developed nervous system it feels no great pain when hooked.

That some 40 million American women today are said to make all or part of their clothing. If this is so, where are they hiding?

That Mamie Eisenhower, a good hand at canasta, now prefers a faster-playing version of the game called Bolivia.

That an elephant is happier when traveling by air if a hen is perched on its head. But the average man would rather have a chick on his arm.

Yankee Bush Boy First Winner As 'Safer Driving'

First Junior Crusade for safer driving was launched at White Way Drive-In Theater Sunday with Timothy Schuler of Yankee Bush winning the final event. Tim is now a Page. The event was sponsored by Farrah Grotto. Seven eliminations and two semi-finals were conducted. First, second and third places in each event is as follows: First heat—Bob Lanewicz, Dave Gufferie, Tom Gahan. Second heat—Bob Rice, Nancy Hoffman, Fred Peters. Third heat—Jack King, Larry Schuler, Tom Dunham. Fourth heat—Roger Hoffman, George Grunberg. Fifth heat—Gary Lyons, Sandra Peters. Sixth heat—Jim Schuler, Scott Daelhausen, Gary Lauffenberger. Seventh heat—Eugene Thomas, Martin Hoffman. First elimination was won by Bob Rice, first; Bob Lanewicz, second; Roger Hoffman and Jack King. Second semi—Timothy Schuler, Gary Lyons, Eugene Thomas. Two competitors for the final were Bob Rice and Timothy Schuler, which ended with a tie and had to be re-run with Schuler winning. He scored a perfect 100 points. White Way is opened every night at six for those wishing to take their drivers test. Each event must have 18 entries. A child (from 6 to 12 only may enter) must move from Page to Squire to Knight before he can qualify in a final field to become a Crusader.

Many Attend Public Hearing

(From Page One) In the district was considered a "practicality" by residents. Pine Grove Supervisor Solinger pointed out that the proposed roadway to be moved another 400 feet west it would intersect with Route 957 at "Devil's Elbow" and cross "Devil's Basin", which would be a natural for a low cost underpass. Solinger noted that he was speaking from more than 20 years' experience with the highway department. Pine Grove Solicitor John Stewart asked if it was true a 100-foot access would be acquired, and if this meant the future possibility of a 4-lane highway. Troxell said it was standard policy to acquire 100 feet for the view and to keep hazards back from the road. As for an eventual 4-lane highway, the highway engineer said it had been estimated 7200 cars would use the highway by 1975 but that that was the top figure indicated at present. Clarence Akeley, another Pine Grove supervisor, asked if it was true the old road would revert to the township for maintenance if the new road was built. Told that it would, the highway men were informed that Pine Grove had not one bit of equipment to maintain black-top roads (since it had none) and that a single resurfacing would "take taxes for three years." However, it was also pointed out that should Route 62 be relocated to the west side of Conewango Creek north to New York State, as planned, the road through Akeley would stay with the state as an access road, and that bridge maintenance would remain within state jurisdiction. It was stated that though the present three-lane through North Warren is 33 feet wide, sufficient flanges would be constructed to permit the traffic to squeeze to two lanes for the proposed new stretch. A Mrs. Lyons wanted to know why, if Route 62 was to be moved to the west of the creek, the roadway would be down to Kiantone Road at Akeley bridge rather than remain at the "base of the hill." Troxell said his maps showed that was the

Two Boys Admit Recent Looting of Circle Bar-B-Q

Three teenage Youngsville youths today were believed to have been the ones which broke into Circle Bar-B-Q near Youngsville a week ago and made off with $145 each, some food, alka seltzer and cigars. Warren police picked up two of them over the weekend on suspicion of thefts at two Warren gas stations. Under questioning by Officer William Hewitt they admitted the Bar-B-Q break-in a week ago Sunday night but have denied complicity in the local burglaries which occurred a night earlier. Police were still questioning the two 17-year-olds today.

Subcommittee Probers

(From Page One) such disgraceful conduct by an official representative of a congressional committee," Goldfine said later after huddling with Lott and Goldfine's Washington lawyer Roger Robb. Goldfine issued immediate orders for his entourage to move out of the hotel. Goldfine's own suite was on the second floor, six floors below Lott's. The developments overshadowed all other recent events in the sensation-packed House probe of charges that Goldfine bestowed gifts widely among federal employees and got special federal treatment in return. Both he and Adams have denied the special treatment charges. The textile and real estate magnate flew in from Boston Sunday night with a promise to tell the subcommittee, at last, about three quarters of a million dollars worth of his checks that have gone uncashed for years. He returns for a third day of testimony before the subcommittee Tuesday. But Goldfine had hardly retired to his suite before the case took its newest turn. The barrel-chested Shacklette did most of the talking while Anderson, whose by-line sometimes appears over the Pearson column, sat in an adjacent chair for the unscheduled news conference. "We have information," Shacklette said in measured tones, "that committee members telephoned were tapped. I was given the assignment of checking to see whether this was true." "We had sufficient information," he went on, "to lead me to believe that there was an organized effort to dredge up everything possible on committee members. (Besides reports of wiretaps, Harris last week had said mysterious calls for information about him had also been made to his constituents.) "Mr. Anderson had some information which made it appear that we might find out who had paid for these private investigators. The trail led from the Stater Hotel (across the street from the Sheraton-Carlton) to this hotel. We were attempting to find out who in this hotel was responsible. "Mr. Harris did not authorize any particular type of investigation. He did not authorize technical surveillance.... "Mr. Anderson registered in this room and I took advantage of his hospitality." Anderson said he too had reports of an undercover campaign against the subcommittee and was checking on them. He obtained the adjoining suite under the name of Brooks. Pearson could not be reached immediately for comment.

Final Count

(From Page One) holiday would end with a new record of traffic deaths. The Safety Council attributed the lower death toll to energetic traffic enforcement and the shock of the skyrocketing death toll during the early hours of the holiday. However, it appears the final count will be close to the number killed during the recent Memorial Day holiday period. The 371 traffic deaths for the three-day Memorial Day period set a new record for the holiday. Thus, the traffic death toll for the first two long weekend holidays this year was more than 725. During the first five months this year traffic deaths averaged 88 per day. The National Safety Council had estimated the 410 traffic death toll for the 73-hour period starting at 6 p. m. (local time) Thursday and ending last midnight. The record high traffic toll for a three-day July 4 holiday period was 407 set in 1955 while the record low since World War II was 225 deaths in 1947. The holiday was marred by several multiple traffic accident deaths. One of the biggest was near Junction City, Kan., Saturday in which six persons were killed in the collision of two cars. Drownings took a heavy toll, surpassing by far the 132 reported during the Memorial Day period. Deaths from miscellaneous type accidents also were higher than the 88 during the Memorial Day holiday. A fireworks plant blew up in Portland, Ore., killing one child and injuring at least 20 persons. However, no deaths in fireworks displays were reported. An Associated Press survey during the nonholiday period covering 78 hours from June 19 to June 22, showed 339 traffic deaths, 118 drownings and 63 deaths in miscellaneous type accidents. The overall total of 520 was more than 100 under the combined total during the July 4 weekend. By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS At least 25 persons died accidentally in Pennsylvania during the three-day July 4 weekend. This compared with 41 deaths last July 4 and 14 in 1956. The highway death toll was 11 with only one multiple-death accident. Nine people drowned, two were killed by trains, one by fire, one by electrocution, and one in a fall from a balcony when the railing gave way. The weather was hot and humid for most of the holiday, but highway conditions were complicated by a series of thunderstorms Sunday in many sections of the state. Chester County was hardest hit when an electrical storm lashed a 10-mile area near Downingtown, causing some power failures and bringing down trees and limbs which halted traffic on main highways. The balcony accident took the life of Daniel Garber, 78, a noted landscape artist. He was cutting ivy from the wall of his Lumberville home when the balcony railing gave way and he plunged nine feet to the ground. WARREN RELIEF MEETS Warren Relief Association will meet tomorrow morning at 10 a. m. at the home of Mrs. Grace B. Siegfried, 204 West third avenue. All directors are asked to be present.

Non-swimmer Jumps in Over His Head; 2 Drown

A 15-year-old Fredonia, N. Y. boy who could not swim lost his life and that of a would-be rescuer late Sunday afternoon when he jumped off a diving board into farm pond water over his head. Edwin Getselman, 15, of Fredonia, leaped off the board and was thrashing about in eight feet of water when his host for the day, Robert Sortore, 54, not a good swimmer himself, plunged to the rescue. Getselman's body was recovered about 8:30 p. m. A skin diver brought up Sortore's body from 15 feet a short time later. Getselman's 17-year-old brother, Alvin, who had driven off to get help, put the farm truck in ditch and had to run the remaining distance to a nearby farm house. The pond was on the farm owned by Elmer Elliott about four miles south of Fredonia. Sortore lived on a trailer at the farm and was being visited by four Getselman children. HISTORIC TALKS OPEN In Ottawa on Tuesday OTTAWA (AP)—President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Diefenbaker in their talks opening here Tuesday may take historic steps to establish a direct channel between the law-making bodies of Canada and the United States. Diefenbaker Sunday night expressed hope the talks will lead to the creation of a joint Canada-U. S. parliamentary committee. The purpose of such a group would be to keep a constant watch on problems emerging between the neighbors and presumably to initiate fast action if friction reaches the danger point.

Turley and Spahn Starting Pitchers

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Bob Turley of the New York Yankees and Warren Spahn of the Milwaukee Braves today were named starting pitchers for Tuesday's 25th All-Star baseball game. The choice of Spahn was a surprise because the American League starting lineup contained only two left-handed batters. Turley's choice was expected. Manager Fred Haney of Milwaukee pulled another surprise when he listed Willie Mays, San Francisco centerfielder, as his leadoff man.

U.S. Airmen Held By Commies Are Reported Freed

BULLETIN MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union today released nine U. S. airmen whose military transport was forced down inside Soviet Armenia 11 days ago. U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson Jr. said the men were turned over to U. S. authorities on the Soviet-Iranian border. This left nine U. S. Army men in the hands of Communist East Germans. Their helicopter strayed into East Germany June 7. The Soviet news agency Tass reported that the airmen released from Armenia were delivered to a Army representative at the border town of Astara. This is in the Azerbaijan region just west of the Caspian Sea. LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio said the nine-man crew of a U. S. Air Force transport forced down in Soviet Armenia June 27 was freed on the Soviet-Iranian frontier today. The broadcast said the airmen were handed over to a U. S. military representative at the town of Astara. It gave no further details. The U. S. S. R. announced June 28 that the C118 had been caught by Soviet fighters inside the Soviet Armenian border and forced to land.

Young Right-Hander Proves Pirate Tamer

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Dropping a child into water to teach him to swim may have its drawbacks, but a baseball version of this sink-or-swim philosophy worked wonders for Joey Jay and the Milwaukee Braves. The 22-year-old right hander stopped the National League leaders' losing streak at five games Sunday with a four-hit, 2-0 shut-out over the Pittsburgh Pirates. It was only his second victory in five decisions. His first triumph also was a 2-0 shutout, in six innings over St. Louis. Jay, who pocketed $40,000 for signing with Milwaukee five years ago and then almost quit baseball because he felt like a bump on a log, owns a fabulous 1.05 earned run average for his five starts. His ERA is 2.25 overall, including four relief jobs in which he gave up seven runs.

FLOATS, FLOATS, FLOATS—All of them beautiful, all of them gorgeous beyond description.

The parade was viewed by thousands, and the weather was wonderful. Camera fiends had a field day... EVERYBODY HAD A GOOD TIME, even those riding on the floats... CULLIGAN'S was all set to take off for the moon. Maybe they have hard water up there, too.

MARCHING UNITS in the great procession were varied. These are the Alpinettes, a group that received a lot of applause along the way... THE GREAT BIG BATTLE that nobody won. Anyhow, everybody got soaked, and what good is a water battle without a few aftermaths of pneumonia??

... NO WARREN PARADE is complete without the brisk tunes and high steppin' of the Cornplanter drum corps.

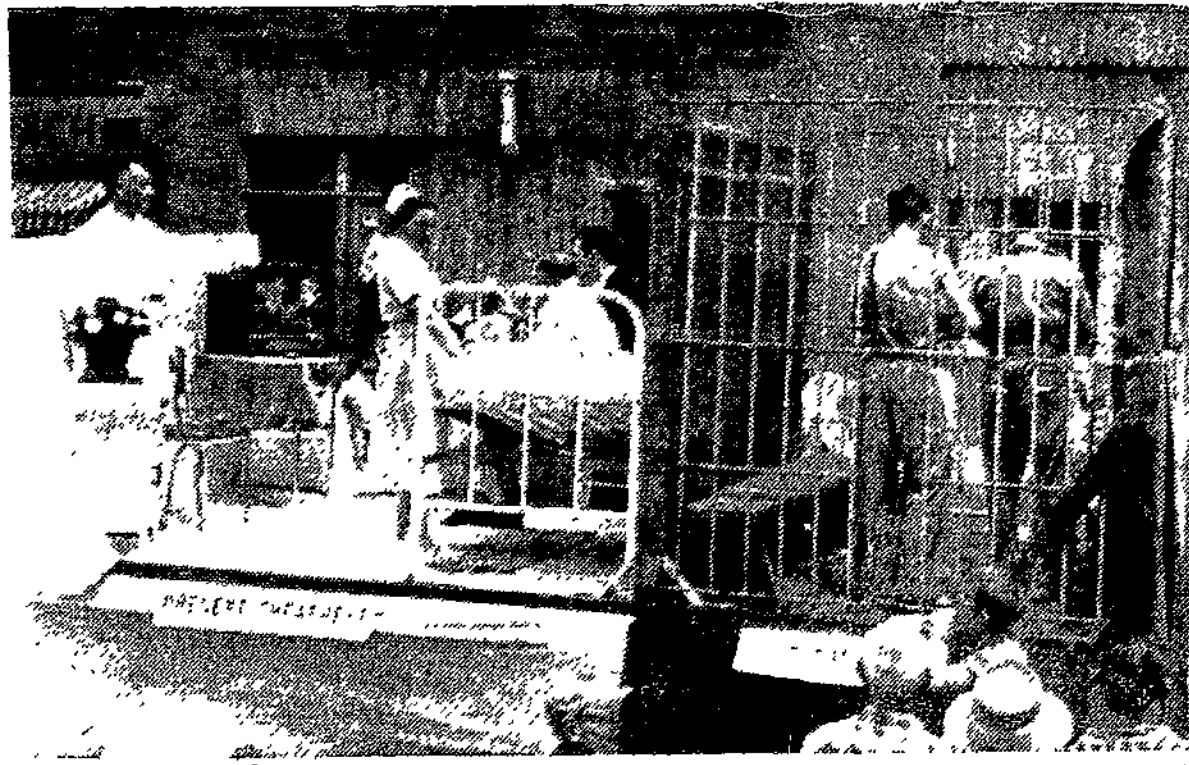

SHEFFIELD OF THE ALLEGHENY, a beautiful conveyance, and just look, willya, at what it conveys. ... PEACE ON EARTH, and who wants it more than we do? The white dove of peace is seen all too seldom, in this day and age. ... WELL, WHEN YOU SEE, two sweethearts poured into bathing suits, what do you say? Nothin', all you do is whistle.

THE SENECA forgot their "dam" troubles, and added a great deal of color to the annual spectacle, by marching in full regalia. Those feather headresses had all the kids pop-eyed. ... THE PAST AND PRESENT is symbolized in this striking float. ... AND THIS ONE GOES way back to when grandma was a girl, and the kids used to run beside the durn contraption and holler, "Hey, Mister, why don'cha buy a horse?"

THE BIGGEST BOOK in the world, and the best reading, too. The BIC display was acclaimed by the throng. ... WOT NEXT?, says Pop, they never had things like that when I was a boy! Little cars, with motors, and boys as drivers. All photos on this page by Sparky Saylor, who took pictures like crazy all week-end, and stayed up all night developing, so you, gentle reader, can glance over the page, and re-live the glorious Fourth, which thanks to the Jaycees was such a booming success.

SHE'S BEING LAUNCHED—Ted Stoter seems to be giving red-haired British actress Yvonne Buckingham a wet time of it in London. Yvonne expected it, of course, but she doesn't seem to like it very much. They were participating in a publicity stunt to launch a new TV series over there, and the bottle Stoter's breaking on Yvonne was specially constructed to break easily. However, Yvonne's expression indicates she wishes it had been made of something softer.

AN ANSWERED PRAYER—Residents of Kathmandu, Nepal, are lined up on some steps to draw their ration of critically-short water. A prolonged drought reduced the city's supply to a two-day level and caused extensive crop damage throughout the country. The Government ordered a day of national prayer to Baruba, the rain god, and rain began to fall.

AROUND THE WORLD

DETERMINATION—Although hospital rules can prohibit children from visiting patients, Mike Stamon, seven, rose to this occasion and went up to see his younger brother, Corey, who was in a hospital in Seattle, Wash. Mike talked his dad, Louis Stamon Jr., into raising him to this level via a telescoping boom to wave at the sick lad inside.

TIME OUT—Barbara Woodruff had to neglect the water colors she's trying to sell for a few moments of repairs on her bicycle in New York. The paintings were done by her boyfriend, Dr. Paul Wyman, and were on display at the annual Greenwich Village Art Show.

HAPPY EVENT—Tucky, a 12-year-old pooch in New Castle, Ind., put on some glasses to take a good look at her diploma with her master, Richard Bruce McMillan. The lad was graduated from school and Tucky was given a diploma, too, for not missing a day in following Richard to school in eight years. She hasn't decided to join the boy in high school.

COMEDY ACT—The famous bear pit in Berne, Switzerland, seems to be including some comedy for the visitors these days. A keeper has just given these cubs their nursing bottles, and they're certainly putting on a show as they drink the contents.

HI HO LILO—Cute, vacuous French star Lilo perched for a moment on a ship's ladder to add a bit of spice to the New York scenery when she arrived on the liner Flandre. She was returning from Paris, where she starred in a revue, and headed immediately for Las Vegas to pick up some of the good loot that's given to performers.

DANCING GIRLS—Giving their all to art are these very young ladies, starting a rigorous training that may make some of them ballet stars in the future. They're attending a school in London known as the "cradle" of British ballet because so many dancers learned their craft in a course that lasts from 10 to 14 years.

Buffalo "Bread Basket" No Match for Warren's "Rock"

Warren's fabulous Fourth of July celebration came to a semi-close Friday evening with a star-studded eight bout boxing card on War Memorial field headlined by Warren's Tom Rocky Gerarde. Gerarde had no trouble in winning over his opponent in the second round.

The Rock KO'd opponent Eddie Goodwin in 58 seconds of the second round before a capacity crowd who cheered the local pugilist on in his first fight after a 60-day AAU suspension resulting from a May KO.

Although fans expected to see a real battle, the match was termed a "goof". Goodwin gave Rocky no trouble and suffered numerous "bread basket" blows in the first round. Goodwin came from Buffalo and out-weighted Gerarde by 27 pounds.

Most popular out-of-town boxer, cute Bobby Popeye Sandella, was handed his second loss in 18 fights from the leather of a tough Booker T. Williamson of Youngstown. Williamson was awarded the "Outstanding Boxer Award" presented by the local Jaycees.

Sandella had defeated Williamson twice, once by decision and once by KO. Popeye took lead in the first two rounds only to have Williamson come back in the third. On rubber legs in the fourth, Sandella caught two rights to the head that nearly floored him.

Erie's Johnny Bizzaro defeated Bob Spencer of Cleveland after four violent rounds.

In the first round, Spencer was dropped with a right to the head.

Last three bouts were four two-minute rounds, first three were three-minute rounds. Vinnie DiNicola KO'd Fred Smith of Buffalo with a left hook to the body in 2:12. Smith had been floored by DiNicola, and bound back on his feet to meet the left hook.

Larry Bortnick knocked out Sammy Kid Anderson of Buffalo in 1:08 of the second round. Alvin Connors substituted for Billy Reese in the match with Carlson Wilson of Warren, Ohio, as he won his fifth fight by a two round KO. Having five previous fights, Connors won all five, four by first round KOs.

The event was sponsored by Warren Area Junior Chamber of Commerce with the following officials: Judges—Ray Collins, Frankie Russo; time—Fred Bell; knockdowns—Robert Hammerbeck; announcer—Frank Fiesl. Babe Hawkins and Johnny Seeman of Erie were referees.

RESULTS.
Tom Gerarde over Ed Goodwin, KO.
Booker Williamson over Bobby Sandella, decision.
Johnny Bizzaro over Bob Spencer, decision.
Vinnie DiNicola over Fred Smith, KO.
Larry Bortnick over Sammy Anderson, KO.
Alvin Connors over Carlson Wilson, KO.

Sportorials

THIS IS BOXING?

Coming right down to bare facts, it was a flop. Promoter-matchmaker Don Elbaum of Erie should have seen to it that a fighter was brought into Warren for Tom Gerarde. What Elbaum had in mind, it is not known. Was it an easy win for Gerarde in front of home town fans? If it was, Gerarde was deeply moved. He wants to fight, not show off.

Rocky himself was more than disappointed over the whole affair. Tom wants to be able to show his stuff here. How can he with matching like was done Friday?

Goodwin was far from being in shape. It is a popular belief that he isn't an actual fighter.

We want to see Rocky win, but not in such a manner as he had to go through Friday.

This isn't sportsmanship. Pitting a tough fighter like Gerarde against a boy who seemingly does no more than "hang out" in gyms, is far from what men like Joe Fazio have brought up their boys like Gerarde to have love for. It isn't even boxing.

Writing on the Don Jordan-Isaac Logart decision in their fight last week, Elbaum noted that "decisions like this do the boxing game no good." Does such far miss-matching promote the fistic art on a local level and do justice to both participants?

We feel that area boxing fans should not be discouraged from future cards. For the betterment of boxing and the promotion of Tom Gerarde and boxing on a local level, we urge the support of the next card in Warren.

All possible precautions will be taken to prevent such a "goof" again.

Peroski Pitches Betts Machine to 7 to 1 Victory

Betts Machine Stop's Black Knights, paced by tight, six-hit pitching of Steve Peroski, bopped Struthers Wells 7-1 on West Side field Thursday evening in Warren City Softball League competition.

After allowing one run on two hits in the first frame, Peroski settled down to allow only one man to reach third base. Meantime, Betts were pecking away at Paul Viglio for a total of 13 safeties. Trailing 1-0 in the third, Betts took a 3-1 lead on two singles and Lou Cummings' double.

Sid Cummings' single and Ned Bartholomew's double were good for another run in the fifth. A two run burst in the seventh iced the contest for Betts, runs coming on triples by Peroski and Bartholomew, a single by S. Cummings. Black Knights picked up an insurance run in the ninth, driven in by Rico Bonavita.

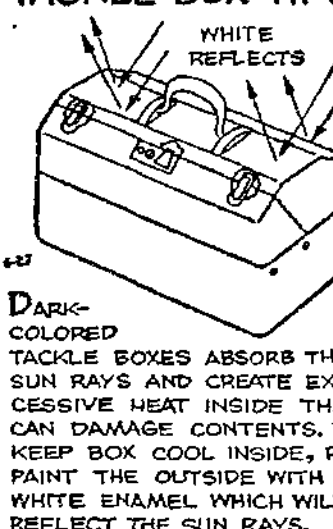

Betts Machine next faces Jones Chevrolet on West Side diamond tonight, while Struthers Wells plays Nino's this evening at State Hospital.

Ludlow Defeats Titusville in a Non-League Tilt

A smooth-working Titusville team banged 16 hits off two Ludlow Wildcat pitchers Friday before a big crowd at Ludlow Wildcat Park and wound up with a 12-2 win over the 'Cats.

The game was a non-league affair. Titusville took a 7-0 lead after five innings added single runs in the seventh and eighth and finished with a three-run barrage in the ninth.

Ludlow scored its two runs in the fifth as Jim Smart singled and raced all the way to third when the centerfielder muffed his ball. He scored on John Castagnino's fly to center. Mike Kulka then singled but was forced by John Labesky. Labesky took second on an error and scored on Tom Thompson's single.

Labesky and starter Keith Holden gave up 16 hits. Only bright spot for Ludlow was the hitting of Smart, who was 3 for 3. The box score:

15 Pitchers Are Ready for Action in All-State Game

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
BALTIMORE (AP) — For the first time in recent years, the managers of the All-Star baseball teams will have a stable of well-rested starting pitchers.

None of the 15 pitchers (eight in the National and seven in the American) slated for Tuesday's silver anniversary game started Sunday games. A few years back it seemed everybody on the roster worked on the final day of regular play.

Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees, perennial boss of the Americans, sounded off last year at St. Louis when he learned pitchers he wanted to use weren't available.

Old Case picked three men off his own Yankee staff this year. He was able to see to it that Bob Turley, top man in the majors with a 12-3 record, didn't pitch since beating Washington Friday with a three-hitter.

Manager Fred Haney of the Milwaukee Braves, who heads the Nationals, also has been close mouthed about his pitching selections. However, he leaned toward Bob Friend of Pittsburgh. Friend beat Milwaukee Saturday for his 10th victory.

Stengel, whose Americans are favored 12-10, has Early Wynn of Chicago, Ray Narleski of Cleveland and his own relief man, Ryne Duren, as other right-handers. For left-handed hitters, he has southpaw Whitey Ford of the Yankees, Billy Pierce of Chicago and Billy O'Dell of Baltimore.

Haney has right-handers Bob Purkey of Cincinnati, who was used briefly in relief Sunday, Larry Jackson of St. Louis, Don McMahon of Milwaukee and Dick Farrell of Philadelphia, in addition to Friend.

Transferring of Senators Still Receiving Attention

By GEORGE BOWEN

Associated Press Sports Writer
BALTIMORE (AP) — The recent shifting tides of major league baseball continue to rol today with the Washington Senators taking a sounding on their possible movement.

Calvin Griffith, president of the Senators, will ask the other 2 American League owners how they feel about continuing to play in Washington.

Washington is last in the standings and more important to visit operators last in attendance. Visiting teams are paid according to each ticket sold.

One Washington director claimed at the last board meeting that visiting teams barely made expenses. The directors instructed Griffith to ask the owners at their meeting in conjunction with the All-Star game their reaction to a move out of the nation's capital.

Minneapolis, Houston, Dallas and Toronto have been mentioned as likely new homes of the Senators.

An internal struggle has been going on the last couple of years over an itch for Washington to join the American League search for greener pastures. In the last four years, AL franchises have been moved from St. Louis to Baltimore and Philadelphia to Kansas City.

The National League joined the upheaval this year when the Dodgers and Giants were moved from New York to California.

The urge for change hasn't stopped there. Both leagues, meeting separately, are expected to hear talk about expanding from 8 to 10 teams. In this connection, the National League will hear a report on an idea for New York City to build a stadium as a lure for return of a franchise.

American League sentiment for expansion does not seem favorable so far. However, if the two leagues deadlocked and it is up to Commissioner Ford Frick, the move would be made.

Carter Hoping To Use Valdes
In Title March

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Harold Carter hopes to make another move toward an eventual meeting with heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson by hurlding over Cuban Nino Valdes in a Wednesday fight at Spokane, Wash.

The methodical Carter whipped Willie Besmanoff June 13 in his first scrap after 18 months in the Army. He is rated No. 5 contender by the National Boxing Association and No. 9 by Ring.

Valdes, 33, is almost 10 years older than Carter. After losing a split decision to Alex Miteff in February, the big fellow from Havana has won three straight from Wayne Bethea, Mike DeJohn and Johnny Summerlin.

The 10-round match will be carried on ABC-television from the Spokane Coliseum.

Mickey Crawford and Gaspar Ortega, two welters with an idea of mixing with Virgil Atkins, the new champion, fight Friday at Madison Square Garden in a match that could revise the 147-pound ratings.
